TILT OF DIRECTORS

Dispute Between President Peabody and Mr. Fish.

LIE WAS ALMOST PASSED

Peabody Starts to Apologize but Fish Stalked Out of Room in State of Great Indignation, Saying Peabody "Can Go to Blazes."

Chicago, Oct. 18.—Probably the most interesting incident of Wednesday's meeting of the Illinois Central directors, which preceded the annual meeting of the stockholders, was a tilt between Charles A. Peabody, president of the Mutual Life Insurance company, and Stueyvesant Fish.

Mr. Peabody is regarded as one of the most dignified men inNewYork. A dispute arose as to certain action at a previous meeting. Mr. Fish made a statement of his position in the matter and Mr. Peabody declared Mr. Fish had not then voted the way he was now voting on the subject. One word led to another and Mr. Peabody all but passed the lie to Mr. Fish. He stated that what Mr. Fish said was far from the truth. Mr. Fish arose and shouted at his opponent:

Fish Gets Wrathy.

"Mr. Peabody, you cannot talk to me like that, nor is there a man living with inches enough to tell me that I don't tell the truth."

In his excitement Mr. Fish had moved toward Mr. Peabody, but made no further demonstration.

Turning to the directors, he declared that it was their evident intention to delay matters beyond a reasonable limit and that as he had more urgent business he would leave for his hotel.

As Mr. Fish was passing from the room, Peabody arose and called to him. The life insurance man started to say that he was sorry for what he had said, and that undoubtedly in the heat of the argument he had overstepped the bounds of gentlemanly conduct. Fish was striding from the room with face aflame, and did not hear Peabody. Some member of the board who was near him said:

"Mr. Fish, Mr. Peabody is apologizing. He is sorry for what he said."

Fish did not check the speed of his exit, but shouted:

"I have not the slightest interest in what Mr. Peabody is or is not sorry for, and he can go to blazes. Good day, gentlemen."

When this crisp sentence fell upon Mr. Peabody's ears, that gentleman collapsed in his chair and almost lost the superb dignity which so admirably fits him.

"Oh, my," he gasped, "gentlemen, I assure you that I regret it."

Harriman, who had been watching the proceedings with interest and some amusement, said:

"Oh, never mind him, Mr. Peabody, let him go and we can get down to business."

Still Hunt After Proxies.

Before this session of the directors was held, Mr. Fish began a still hunt after the proxies for 4,000 shares of stock which had been given to him for life during the period when he was president of the road. W. G. Bruen, assistant secretary with whom Mr. Fish had left them, states he did not have them, but that President Harahan did. Mr. Fish strode into the president's office but found him out.

"Who represents the president?" he demanded. L. C. Fritch, President Harahan's assistant, was summoned, and Mr. Fish demanded the proxies.

"I don't think I can give them to you without consulting the president," declared Mr. Fritch.

"Consult the old harry," retorted Mr. Fish, "those proxies are my personal property, and I demand them. Are you going to give them to me?"

"I don't think I can do so, Mr. Fish," said the assistant.

Mr. Fish left the office shaking his finger at Fritch and declared that he would have them. Later he entered the directors' meeting and demanded from the board the possession of the proxies. The question led to a fierce debate, and Fish declared he would have them if he had to arrest every member of the Illinois Central board to get them. The board decided that although they could not give them up to Mr. Fish, they would instruct the proxy committee to credit them to him. Mr. Fish later went into the room where the proxy board was meeting and ascertained that the stock had been credited to his column.

QUEER QUESTION IN COURT.

Is an Irish Wake Legitimate Part of Funeral Ceremony?

New York, Oct. 18.—The judges in the appellate division of the supreme court must decide whether a wake is a legitimate part of a funeral ceremony in an Irish family. The question was brought up by Joseph H. McCallagh, who seeks to be reimbursed for the expenses attending the wake of an uncle, Peter McCallaghan, who died two years ago.

The executors and trustees under the will of Peter McCallaghan refused to allow for these expenses. The nephew declared it was customary for a guard of honor to have refreshments. He ordered a liberal quantity of food and beverages, he said, under the direction of the widow.

His counsel, William F. Clare, in insisting that the custom was so well established the courts could not fail to recognize it, quoted from the dictionary the definition of the word "wake" as the "sitting up of persons with a dead body, often attended with a degree of festivity, chiefly among the Irish."

The court reserved decision.

CASE OF HARRY THAW.

Delmas No Longer Interested in Same as an Attorney.

New York, Oct. 18.—Delphin M. Delmas, of counsel for Harry Thaw in his trial for the murder of Stanford White, is back in New York to resume the practice of his profession here. He says he is no longer interested in the Thaw case was an attorney.

Those familiar with the prepaing of the case for the trial last winter believe that the story told by Evelyn Nisbet Thaw on the stand will not be told in the second trial. Before Lawyer Hartridge, counsel of record for Thaw, retired from the case he said this story would not be repeated.

TRI-CHURCH UNION.

Committee Reported Favorably on the Proposed Amalgamation.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 18.—The triennial council of the Congregational church in session here by a unanimous vote adopted the report of the committee of twenty-eight on the subject of tri-church union.

The committee was unanimous in its report favoring the proposed amalgamation of the Congregationalists, Methodists, Protestants and United Brethren.

Farmers At Georgia State Fair.

Atlanta, Oct. 18.—Between 2,500 and 3,000 members of the National Farmers' union, and belonging to the Georgia division of this great organization, gathered at Piedmont park on Wednesday to celebrate "Farmers' Union Day" at the Georgia state fair. In consequence this occasion is to go down in the history of the fair as one of the most successful days on its calendar of stellar occasions. There were three regular addresses, a recitation and two impromptu speeches delivered to the assembled delegates and each of these was enthusiastically received and applauded.

Engineer and Fireman Killed.

Belton, Tex., Oct. 18—Ramie Dye, white, the engineer, and Robert Owens, the negro fireman, were killed when three large boilers in the plant of the Belton oil mill, of this city, exploded Wednesday. The boilers were torn to scrap iron by the force of the explosion.

Grant's Grandson Legation Secretary.

Washington, Oct. 18—The state department has designated Algernon Sartoris, of the District of Columbia, to be secretary of legation at Montevideo. Mr. Sartoris is the grandson of ex-President Grant.

DEATH LIST NOW 38

That Is Number of Victims In Dupont Explosion.

PROPERTY LOSS OF $780,000

Martial Law Has Been Declared in the Wreck Strewn District, Which is Guarded and Policed by State Militia Comanded by Gov. Hanley.

Fontanet, Ind., Oct. 18.—The loss to the Dupont Powder company in property damaged by the recent explosion is estimated at $280,000, including 65,000 kegs of powder stored in the magazine which exploded.

The property loss in the town is estimated to exceed $500,000.

Dr. W. F. Willien, of Terre Haute, chief surgeon of the Fontanet mills of the Dupont Powder company, has compiled an official list of the known dead. The number is 38, all identified but two bodies, the fragments of which are in a sack at the morgue here.

Martial law has been declared, and the wreck-strewn district, containing four square miles, is guarded and policed by state troops commanded by Governor Hanley.

It is reported that the magazine which blew up contained 50,000 pounds of dynamite in addition to 65,000 kegs of powder.

TWO KILLED IN GINS.

Bibb County Men Fatally Mutilated by Cotton Machinery.

Macon, Ga, Oct. 18.—Almost within the same hour Wednesday morning, two citizens of Bibb county lost their lives by being ground to pieces in cotton gins.

In both cases the men were caught in the breast of the gin and snatched to their death, the saws having horribly mutilated the arms and portions of the body dragged within their reach.

At the East East Macon ginnery Spivey R. Fuller, an employee about the plant, who had been engaged about a month, attracted the attention of other employees by his loud cries. Within a moment the machinery was stopped and he was released from his perilous position, but not before several arteries had been severed. Within a few minutes he was carried to the city hospital and there death relieved his sufferings.

H. F. Jones, a well known Bibb county farmer, was the second victim. While operating a ginnery on the Heath place, a short distance out on the Columbus road, his hand was caught in the machinery and he was snatched against the gin with such force that the spout of an oil can was driven with great force into his temple and into the brain, causing death almost instantly.

RECALLS OLD TRAGEDY.

Miss Elsie Morgan Goes To New Orleans for Medical Treatment.

New Orleans, La, Oct. 18.—Miss Elsie Morgan, 23 years old, the sole survivor of the schooner Olympic, whose passengers and crew, among them women and children, were murdered by a giant negro sailor in the Gulf of Mexico two years ago, has come to New Orleans from her home in Spanish Honduras for a medical operation.

When the negro attempted to make off with Miss Morgan in a dory she resisted and in the fight which ensued received a revolver wound in the arm. It is an old wound, which now requires attention. Shortly after the tragedy the negro, whose name was McField, was captured and lynched on the island of Utilla by a mob of white men.

Allen Escapes Gallows.

Atlanta, Oct. 17—Charles Allen, the Henry county negro who was convicted of the murder of Ben Ritchie, another negro, and sentenced to be hanged, Wednesday had his sentence commuted to life imprisonment by Governor Hoke Smith upon recommendation of the prison comission. The killing occurred as the result of a fight over a bottle of whisky. Subsequent evidence favorable to Brown was found and upon the strength of this the prison commission reversed its former recommendation, which was that the death sentence should stand. Allen was to have been hanged Friday at McDonough, but will now go to the penitentiary instead.

GRIZZLED VETERANS MEET.

Survivors of Cavalry Command of General Nathan Forrest.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 18.—Several hundred grizzled veterans of the civil war, survivors of the cavalry command of General Nathan Bedford Forrest, met here Thursday in their fifteenth annual reunion. Besides the men who served under Forrest there are many other veterans in attendance. This is the second time the reunion has been held in Memphis and eleborate preparations had been made to properly care for the visitors.

The day was ideal and large crowds thronged the streets to witness the parade, which started at 10 o'clock in the morning. About 400 Forrest veterans were mounted and led the line of parade which included members of the Southern Mothers' organization, Ladies' Confederate Memorial association, local members of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, Junior Confederate Memorial association and others.

The parade ended at Forrest park, where an imposing statue of the cavalry leader stands. The ceremonies at this monument were simple and affecting. An innovation was read, a eulogy of General Forrest was delivered by Judge J. P. Young, of Memphis, and benediction was pronounced by Rev. G. B. Baskerville.

EMPEROR HOLDS HIS OWN.

But Little Change in Condition of the Austrian Monarch.

Vienna, Oct 18—After a more restful night which was only interrupted by occasional coughing spells, Emperor Francis Joseph rose slightly later than usual Thursday morning.

The medical examination of the patient resulted in a statement that the fever had disappeared and that the catarrhal symptoms had not increased which was regarded as being somewhat favorable. Otherwise the general condition of the emperor was unchanged.

Stood Treat for License.

Huntsville, Ala., Oct. 18.—Steven Binford, aged 91 years, and Mattie Oaks, aged 80, negroes, secured a license to marry here. The old man states that he was born in Virginia and was brought to Huntsville with 150 other slaves known as Wilkerson's gang, and sold here. The old negro ascertained that County Clerk Thomas Jones was related to the family that owned him and refused to pay for the license out of his own pocket, finally persuading Mr. Jones to stand treat for the license.

Thousands Inspect Lusitania.

New York, Oct. 18.—The public interest in the Cunard steamer Lusitania, the "Queen of the Atlantic," which is lying at her dock here was demonstrated Wednesday when between 10,000 and 15,000 persons who had been fortunate enough to secure tickets were permitted to board and inspect the big ship. So far the booking for her Saturday sailing show 340 saloon, 250 second cabin and 600 steerage passengers.

Prominent Alabama Planter Dead.

Montgomery, Ala., Oct. 18.—Tandy W. Toney, one of the most prominent planters of Alabama, died at Roseland, his country place, in Barbour county, Wednesday afternoon. He was a brother of Judge Sterling B. Toney, of Denver, Colo., and a brother-in-law of ex-Congressman W. C. Oates, of Alabama. Mr. Toney was 53 years old and unmarried.

Dies From Drug in Dentist's Chair.

Bath, N. Y., Oct. 18.—Mrs. Joseph Morrison died in the dental parlors of Dr F. Myron St. John from the effects of chloroform. She took the anaesthetic preparatory to having teeth extracted. Her heart was weak and she failed to revive. She left a family to mourn her loss.

RAVAGES BY FLOODS

Great Distress Is Prevailing in Southern Europe.

RIVERS RAGING TORRENTS

In Hundreds of Cities and Towns There Is Two to Ten Feet of Water in the Streets—Railroad traffic Demoralized.

Paris, Oct. 18—Dispatches from the center and south of France report the worst reports of destruction caused by the floods.

The rivers Loire, Rhone and Saone and their tributaries are raging torrents, the water in some places being the highest ever recorded.

In hundreds of cities and towns there is from two to ten feet of water in the streets. Great distress has resulted.

Railroad traffic is utterly disorganized. At places the roadbeds have been washed away and the stations are under water.

Fortunately the storm center is now moving seaward, the weather clearing and the worst appears to be over.

Paris, Oct. 18.—The whole of southern Europe has been in the grasp of a tremendous storm accompanied by torrential rains. This coming on the heels of unprecedented rainfalls and floods of the past three weeks is causing very great distress.

The storm area extends from Morocco northward over Portugal, Spain and southern France.

War ships off the African coast and the Spanish peninsula have been obliged to seek shelter. The French torpedo gunbot Cassini lost her propeller while making port during the gale. The village of Olel, near Barcelona, Spain, was literally washed away by a cloudburst and the river Llobregat, just south of Barcelona, is described as being a raging torrent and is constantly claiming new victims.

The city of St. Sebastian, in the north of Spain, has been ravaged by a violent hurricane, which took down trees and telegraph poles and blocked every railroad track. Telegraphic communication between Madrid and St. Sebastian is interrupted.

In the department of Savoie a great overhanging cliff of 500,000 cubic meters was reported to be moving and in imminent danger of toppling over and crushing the village of Tonnery, 1,000 feet below.

The storm compelled a Portuguese squadron to seek refuge in the harbor of Lisbon, and while making port the torpedo boat Lagon collided with a gunboat, resulting in fatal injuries to the commander of the Lagon.

EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

Cincinnati Chosen for Next Triennial Convention.

Richmond, Va., Oct 18—A declaration by the house of deputies regarding the "open pulpit" a discussion of a change in the title page of the prayer book, involving the constitution, the submission of joint committee's recommendations that the triennial convention be held in Cincinnati, O., and a debate regarding church work in the tropics, Alaska and the arctic regions were among the subjects that occupied Wednesday's sessions of the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church. Both houses transacted of considerable routine business.

The declaration regarding the open pulpit was passed by the house of deputies.

In view of circumstances in missionary work of the church and in the publication of the prayer book in foreign languages the house of bishops adopted a resolution, deeming it inexpedient to make a change in the title page of the prayer book, in order to avoid all possibility of misunderstanding regarding the character of the church. It was therefore recommended that the title of the prayer book be changed by striking out the word "according to the Protestant Episcopal church in the United States

TRASH ON THE STREETS.

Against Ordinance to Sweep Trash Out on the Streets.

Chairman Vidal of the street committee of the City Council states that there has been considerable violation of the law recently in regard to the matter of sweeping trash and debris into the streets from the various business houses.

Councilman Vidal stated that on last Sunday morning there was on one of the principal streets on the square a perfect mass of refuge from the stores, and that complaint had been made to him. The offenders of the law do not mean to violate the ordinance, but unthoughtedly sweep their refuse into the street and leave it remain, waiting for the delivery man to pick it up.

If the merchants and others would deposit their refuse in a box or barrel, the scavenger collector would come around and take it up. There would then be no misunderstanding, and very little trouble.

Mr. Mordt is Pleased.

L. Mordt of Jacksonville, who is regarded as one of the expert abstractors of the State, and who has been working here for the past two or three days with the United States land office records in the effort to get the lands of boundaries of LaFayette county straight, is still "on his job," as he good-naturedly expressed it.

Mr. Mordt has for years been engaged in this profession in Florida, and is probably the most widely posted man on land matters in the State, his services being frequently sought by abstractors and others. It was he who brought out and straightened the lines in Putnam, Hillsboro and other leading counties of the State, and it is for that purpose he is now here in the interests of LaFayette.

Mr. Mordt, who is a genial fellow, is well pleased with Gainesville and the people he has met here. He declares it's the finest city he has yet visited in the interior of Florida.

MR. CALLISON FROM ATLANTA.

Has Visited the Georgia State Fair and is Pleased With Exhibits.

N. A. Callison, manager of the Spring Park Farms, which are the finest raisers of pedigreed stock in the State, was in the city Friday.

Mr. Callison makes a specialty of raising the Hereford, or short-horn cattle, at his farm, because he believes they are the best for this country. He has visited the Georgia State Fair, which is one of the leading institutions of the kind in the Southern country, and as a matter of course paid especial attention to the cattle exhibits. He noticed them all with the greatest scrutiny, and ascertained, after very careful examination, that the short-horn cattle were the thing for the South.

"I was very well pleased with the Georgia State Fair," remarked Mr. Callison, in talking of his visit. "There were a great many things of interest which I stopped to notice during my trip through the various buildings. There was fine fruit and tons of hay and grain of all kinds, and many other products of the farm and the garden, but naturally the cattle attracted me mostly, and the short-horns appeared at their best."

Manager Callison was well pleased with what he saw, but says the Georgia State Fair is in no wise ahead of the efforts of the Florida State Fair in the matter of display.

WILL UNVEIL MONUMENT.

Woodmen of World Will Show Respect for Deceased Brother.

On Sunday, the 27th inst., the members of Alachua Camp No. 5, W. O. W., will hold an unveiling service at the cemetery, the occasion being the unveiling of the monument over the grave of Sovereign J. J. Butler, who died about a year ago.

The ceremonies will be presided over by Counsel Commander Jas. M. Dell, and the address will be delivered by Hon. Robt. E. Davis, a member of the order, who will make a most interesting talk. The public is invited to the exercises, which will begin at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

The monument, which has already been erected, is a handsome one, and has attracted the attention of all who have visited the cemetery.

All Stock is In Sight.

Albany, Ga., Oct. 18.—The cotton mill committee of the Albany Business League announces that $175,000 of the total capital stock of $250,000 which the committee undertook, several weeks ago, to secure to guarantee the erection in 1908 of a large yarn mill in Albany, has been actually subscribed, and that the remaining $75,000 is in sight. The project is in such shape that the positive statement is made by prominent local business men that the mill will be built in 1908, work beginning early in the year.

MUSTER OF BOYS OF COMPANY H

WILL LEARN GREAT DRILL

State Military Encampments Different From What They Used to Be, and Instead of Pleasure and Recreation They Are Practical Object Lessons.

As was stated in The Sun of Friday, Company H, Second Infantry, with a full complement of men, left Gainesville at midnight Thursday night for the annual encampment at Fort Pickens, near Pensacola, where they will remain in camp with the soldiers of the regular army for the next ten days.

This encampment will lack a great deal of being a camp of relic and fun, as the State encampments have been formerly conducted. While the former encampments have been instructive in a way, and a great deal of work has been accomplished, matters have been simmered now to a strictly business basis, and the strictest discipline is carried out. The men are required, during their stay, to go through the regular regulations of the United States army, and this lacks a great deal of being a "snap." The men of today realize this, and they know full well that the gathering together of the State troops is for actual instruction, and for no other purpose. They are manifesting an interest and a desire to learn every point of advantage in military matters.

Muster of Company.

The muster of Company H, Second Infantry, which left Gainesville, is as follows:

Captain—J. W. Blanding.
First Lieutenant—S. Warren.
Second Lieutenant—W. D. Wheeler.
First Sergeant—L. B. Parrish.
Sergeants—R. Chapin, A. C. Bennett.
Quarter-Master Sergeant—C. Pinkoson.
Corporals—W. J. Holly, P. M. Smith, J. E. Tison, J. B. Douglass.
Artificer—H. H. Arnold.
Musician—M. T. Smith.
Privates—M. F. Adams, J. N. Baker, B. P. Beville, W. A. Burch, F. W. Bruce, C. B. Easterlin, R. B. Hesler, J. P. Jones, L. H. Jackson, A. R. Krous, M. R. McCready, R. E. McRae, M. Mason, T. F. Pinkoson, Wm. Prince, A. C. Perry, Rineheart, Stricland, C. T. Stevenson, C. C. Simpson, J. A. Taylor, Demming, Briten, J. Malphurs, E. Kelley, Denton, W. T. Gore, Ellis.
Cooks—Willie Smith, V. S. Smith.

Major A. H. Blanding, commanding the Third Battalion, Second Infantry, with Corporal Chamberlin and Private R. Sterling as aids, was in charge of the special train, which carried the battalion consisting of the Gainesville Guards, the Ocala Rifles and the Bradford County Guards.

War on Sunday Theaters.

Kansas City, Oct. 18.—A grand jury in the criminal court has returned 15 indictments against managers of Kansas City theaters for keeping their places of amusement open on Sunday. The indictments had been asked by Judge William H. Wallace, who gave notice two weeks ago that he intended enforcing the Sunday closing law. The theatrical managers had secured a temporary injunction restraining the closing of their places. Warrants will now be served and the managers brought to trial.

Drank Carbolic Acid.

Atlanta, Oct. 18.—Louis Gordon, of 447 Whitehall street, who for more than 25 years has been a well known and highly regarded merchant of Atlanta, was found dead late Wednesday afternoon in a room at the Terminal hotel. Near him was a half-emptied bottle of carbolic acid. It is believed that while under a spell of despondency brought on by a nervous affliction to which he has been subject since his seventeenth year, Mr. Gordon drank the acid that ended his life.

Shaft to New York State Heroes.

Winchester, Va., Oct. 18.—A granite shaft commemorative of their fallen comrades, was dedicated at Cedar Creek battlefield by the survivors of the One Hundred and Twenty-Seventh New York volunteers. Berwick Brown, of Poughkeepsie, and Herbert S. Larick, of Winchester, were the orators. The regiment was recruited in Dutchess and Columbia counties.

CHURCHES PLUNDERED.

Thomas' Known Thefts Estimated by Public Prosecutor at $1,600,000.

Paris, Oct. 18—Marx Bros., antiquaries, who sold the statue of St. Catherine to the Metropolitan museum of art in New York last May, while they are unable to account for the exact origin of the statue are quite certain that it is not a product of the recent church robberies in France.

M. Marx told a reporter of the Associated Press that the firm had acquired the statue in August, 1906, from one of the best known dealers in Paris who had purchased it from another dealer equally reputable. For the present he was not at liberty to give the names of the dealers but he considered the character of the houses a sufficient guarantee that the status had not been stolen. Previous to its sale to the Metropolitan museum, the statue had been inspected by directors and experts of the Louvre galleries who desired to buy it but could not, because they did not have sufficient money at their disposal.

M. Marx does not believe that much of the Thomas plunder has reached the United States.

The product of Thomas' known thefts, according to the public prosecutor of Lomges, already is estimated at $1,600,000.

At Clermont-Ferrand the police discovered in a cellar a bust of St. Baudine, stolen from the church of St. Nectaire and valued at $200,000.

Some of the reactionary papers of Paris are intimating that the government officials are closing their eyes to the sacking of churches.

POLICE INVESTIGATING.

Attack on Mexican for Not Revealing Revolutionary Secret.

Chicago, Oct. 18.—The police are investigating the alleged attempt to murder Emil Pampo, said to have been a wealthy miner of Nazas, Durango county, Mexico.

Pampo claims that he was fired at five times early Thursday morning by an unidentified man while walking in Ohio street, near Lincoln park boulevard.

He declared that the man who attempted to shoot him is the same man who, several weeks ago, approached him, saying he was an agent of President Diaz, and offered him $5,000 if he would reveal the hiding place of J. Jouruegui, said to have been foremost in a revolutionary movement. He refused the offer, he said, and was then threatened with death by the man.

Judge Aiken Has Stroke.

Cartersville, Ga., Oct 18.—The condition of Judge J. W. Aiken, president of the Georgia senate, is worse. The doctors state that the congestion of his left lung has increased. Wednesday he had a stroke of paralysis which involved the entire left side of his body. While hope of recovery has not been entirely given up, the chances are doubtful. Dr. Todd, of Atlanta, was called here in consultation.

Five Men Drowned.

Chicago, Oct. 18—Five men were drowned by the overturning of a scow in the Illinois and Michigan canal near Joliett, Ill. The men were employed by the Channahan Power company, which is building an electric power plant at the junction of the Desplaines and Kankakee rivers. Twenty-three men were in the scow and many of these had narrow escapes from drowning.

THE BERMUDA ONION.

Florida Soil Said to be Adapted to Its Culture.

We have urged our readers, says The Florida Agriculturist, to try Bermuda onions. They can be successfully grown in this State, and profitably, we feel sure. The crop has the great advantage that it is not absolutely necessary to market the crop as soon as gathered. As with all crops, the sooner it is sold the better, as a rule, yet if the market for onions is depressed, they may be held for a long time with only the loss of weight which will be caused by their drying out. If they are sold by weight, as is the case in Texas, the sooner they are sold the heavier they will be. A Texas correspondent of The Cleveland Leader writes as follows:

"The harvesting of the season's Bermuda onion crop in Texas is pretty well finished. The shipments from this region are now practically over, but a number of cars are yet to be shipped from more northern points.

"Laredo is the center of the Bermuda onion industry in this State. The crop this year was about 1,500 cars, of about 15,000 pounds to the car, or a total of 37,500,000 pounds of onions. The shipments from Laredo were more than 50 cars. The total profits to the growers exceed $1,000,000.

"Bermuda onion farming has brought more wealth to the people of this border town during the last five years than was derived from all other crops combined during the preceding 100 years. As a matter of fact, there was very little farming or truck growing of any kind done around Laredo until the discovery was made a few years ago that it was an ideal place for raising Bermuda onions.

"The pioneer onion grower here is J. C. Nye, who has made a fortune out of the business. His success attracted others, and each year since he made his crop additional acreage has been planted in onions, until now most of the irrigable land in the vicinity of Laredo is devoted to the new industry.

"The profits are enormous—so large, in fact, that it is hard to make uninformed people believe the stories told of the rapid accumulation of wealth from this source. There are a number of instances of men who came here three or four years ago with a capital of a few hundred dollars, and who are now worth thousands. The net profits to the acre run from $300 to $700 a season.

"Mr. Nye kept an account of the crop of five acres of his land for four consecutive years. For the four years, off this five acres, he gathered and sold $9,312 worth of onions. Most of the other land did as well or better. The yield on the five acres for the four years is below the average.

"The average yield of onions to the acre in the Laredo territory this season was more than 20,000 pounds. The crop sold for from 2½ to 3 cents a pound, delivered in the cars here."

The Stricken Rose From Grief.

What a fortunate provision of nature it is, that deprives the rose of mental suffering; for how poignant would be its grief to discover, in the height of its blooming glory, that a canker fed at its heart, and that its beauty and fragrance were doomed forever. Nature always spares the suffering; she is a veritable store-house of pleasing rewards, for those who seek her aid. If your advertising plans are strong enough, then you may give some of your attention to the smaller things about store-management. Otherwise you are "putting the cart before the horse."

A store is a good place in which to spend a part of a rainy, or a "disagreeable," day. People are coming to take this view more and more of stores that advertise irrespective of weather.

The filth taken from the gutters in various sections of town would make the best kind of fertilizer, for which it should be utilized instead of being used for filling in low places in the streets.

The whiskey men will contest the recent election in Santa Rosa county, on the ground that the petition asking the commissioners to call the election did not contain the required number of legal signatures.

W. M. Mears, a Dade county farmer, was given a life sentence by Judge Minor S. Jones in circuit court at Miami last Friday. Mears was convicted on circumstantial evidence of murdering a negro named Smith and weighting the body to the bottom of Clear Lake, near West Palm Beach, the crime being committed early last spring.—Ocala Banner.

The people of Gainesville have sent up a petition to the Railroad Commission at Tallahassee, asking that the railroads be ordered to construct a union depot in Gainesville. Wouldn't it be a good idea for the people of Live Oak to take similar action in the matter of a new depot here?—Live Oak Democrat. The "idea" may be a good one, Brother Irwin, but if no more good resulted therefrom than has been the case in the petition from Gainesville, your time would be wasted. The Gainesville petition was presented so long ago that most people hereabouts have forgotten about it, but as yet there is no indication of the erection of a union depot, although one is badly needed.

In her fight for many municipal reforms Jane Addams has won many staunch allies among men, says The Delineator for October. It is because of Miss Addams' moderate generous point of view that they have stood with her. That is why they named her for the school board and why they wanted her to stay when the radicals retired. And not only is she on the new school board—she is the power on it; which comes from the fact that, as the politicians have discovered, she is perfectly safe and sane. Miss Addams has devoted the best part of the past month to the schools. It is the big thing she is now doing for Chicago. And it may result in the one vital exchange of politics for trained intelligence on the board. It was even more difficult to stir Chicago to the point of meeting the free-bath need. The first free-bath building went up within two blocks of Hull House, where it still stands in unquestioned popularity. In the newer settlement buildings, baths have been given an equal place with books, and the club boys are fairly bewitched about their showers.

"X-RAYS" AND ELECTRICITY.

Among all the long-sought cures that have enlisted the painstaking and persistent search of medical men and scientists, says The New York Commercial, the cure of cancer has especially appealed to the present generation. The discovery of radium, with all its unknown possibilities, has stimulated to experiments in the direction of cancer-cure that must rank with the most ingenious ever made.

Last week, at the congress of French surgeons held in Paris, the principal interest is said to have centered on the discussion of the effect of "X-rays" on cancer. While it was agreed that no case of complete cure had as yet been recorded, it was also shown that beneficent effects had been obtained by the Rontgen-ray treatment of cancer. In summing up the results of the congress Doctor Temoin, chief surgeon of the Bourges Hospital, said: "One thing is certain: No case of cancer has yet been cured by 'X-rays'."

Almost while this discouraging summary of investigation was being announced, there was a demonstration under way at Droca Hospital in Paris before several scores of surgeons of the electrical treatment of cancer, otherwise known as "fulguration." This was conducted by an Irish surgeon named Hart, the patient being the victim of an advanced internal cancerous growth. For a half-hour the patient was submitted to high-frequency sparks created by a current of from sixty to two hundred thousand volts. On examination by the surgeons present the patient was pronounced completely cured.

Allowing for any reasonable modifications of the surgeons' encouraging verdict in this case, there can be no doubt that in electricity has been found a powerful curative agent. The forthcoming experiments along the lines marked out by Doctor Hart will be watched with interest, especially in our own country, where the interest in cancer-cure is especially keen.

"THE ADVERTISING DECIDES."

It seems like a long time ago that people "inherited their stores"—patronized stores from family habit and traditions.

And yet, even now, some of the more "conservative" are inclined to attach too much importance to store reputation and good will. These things do have a great value of course; but they do not outweigh all other things, by any means.

The newest store in the city will always be able, through enterprising methods and effective newspaper advertising, to capture a share of the business "inherited" by the oldest one. And so it comes about that the long-established store must keep step with the newest ones in selling methods, in stock, in equipment, in service—and especially in advertising. If it does not, then it practically presents to newer competitors a share of its trade. In the competitive fight, therefore, it is not all decided by good-will, by store followings. "The advertising decides."

The celebrated case of Claude L'Engle, charged with criminally libelling John A. Graham, has been transferred from Manatee to Polk county, the change of venue being granted on L'Engle's affidavit that he could not get an impartial jury in Manatee county.

Lots of fellows call it bad luck when they only take off a bite too big for them.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. ## CATCH THE WHITE ONES, TOO.

It is just as important to put the "blind tigers" operated by white men out of business, says The Live Oak Democrat, as it is to suppress those run by negroes. In some respects they are even a greater curse, and beyond all question there is far less excuse for a white man engaging in such a degrading form of crime than a negro. No respectable man who has a home and wife and children or mother and sisters who may some day be the victims of a drunken beast, can afford to find any excuse for or show any mercy to any man, white or black, caught promoting the cause of crime in his community by engaging in the illegal sale of intoxicating liquor. The Atlanta Constitution handles this form of lawlessness without gloves and all good men will endorse the following from that paper:

"But a few weeks ago a negro was convicted of the illegal sale of whiskey in a dry county close to Atlanta. The court fined him $1,000, the limit allowed by law, or sentenced him to serve twelve months on the chaingang. To the great surprise of the court the negro promptly paid his fine and secured his freedom. Commenting upon this case, the judge before whom it was tried said there was no doubt whatever that the negro was the tool of white men who put him forward to bear the punishment of the detected crime. Had the court suspected for a moment that the negro was prepared to pay the fine, the culprit would have found himself on the way to the chaingang without that alternative privilege.

"But even that would not have gone to the root of the evil. The white man who would spread terror in a community, and even murder and rapine and arson, merits no consideration of mercy. He should be hunted out and put into stripes, where he belongs. The only regret in such cases is that the penalty is not a dozen times more severe than it is."

An old Teutonic schoolmaster was in the habit of doffing his hat to his students. A self-important one chided him for so doing and the master told him that among them might be one whose destiny would eclipse his own some day. And well he might, for he was training Martin Luther—then in rags and singing on the streets in the twilight for bread.

The horse running behind is not the loser every time. One of the high tests is a racer's ability to stay in. There are some who never know how to reserve power for the home stretch. The man that learns it may be behind now, but he'll pass under the wire a full length ahead.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

Prevalency of Kidney Disease.

Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalency of kidney disease. While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the last recognized by patient and physicians, who content themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease undermines the system.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfils every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

Women Who Wear Well.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life often make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliance vanish like the bloom from a peach which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change, ignorance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage and motherhood. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant pelvic drains and weaknesses which too often come with marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the cheek of its freshness and the form of its fairness.

As surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate womanly organs, so surely when these organs are established in health the face and form at once witness to the fact in renewed comeliness. Nearly a million women have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Ingredients on label—contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs. Made wholly of those native, American, medicinal roots most highly recommended by leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

For nursing mothers, or for those broken-down in health by too frequent bearing of children, also for the expectant mothers, to prepare the system for the coming of baby and making its advent easy and almost painless, there is no medicine quite so good as "Favorite Prescription." It can do no harm in any condition of the system. It is a most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine nicely adapted to woman's delicate system by a physician of large experience in the treatment of woman's peculiar ailments.

Dr. Pierce may be consulted by letter free of charge. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

HIS RULING PASSION.

Old Harpagon Carried It to the Brink of the Grave.

The following story is commonly related as true in France: Old Harpagon was fast approaching his end. His sufferings were very great, but he comforted himself with the thought that as he could not eat there was so much saved at any rate.

"Well, doctor," he said in a feeble voice, "how long have I yet to live?"

"Only half an hour. Would you like me to send for somebody—a clergyman, for instance?"

Harpagon was silent for a few moments. He passed his hand over his chin, bristling with a grizzly beard of several days' growth, when a sudden thought struck him, and, turning to the doctor, he gasped excitedly:

"Quick—send for—a barber!"

The barber soon afterward arrived with his shaving tackle.

Harpagon, whose voice was getting weaker, asked him, "You—charge—twopence—for shaving?"

"That's the price," was the answer.

"And—how much—is it—for shaving—a corpse?"

The barber paused a moment and then said, "Five shillings."

"Then—shave—me—quickly," stammered old Harpagon, casting a feverish glance at the watch which the doctor still held in his hand.

He was too feeble to utter another word, but the doctor understood the mute appeal and said:

"Fifteen minutes more!"

A smile of satisfaction stole over the features of the patient. The barber set to work and in a very short time finished his task notwithstanding the nervous twitchings that distorted the face of the dying man. When the operation was over old Harpagon uttered a sigh of relief and was heard to whisper:

"That's a good thing—four shillings—and tenpence saved!" And he breathed his last.—London Chronicle.

The Destructiveness of Worry.

As a force, worry is purely negative and therefore destructive; it never incites, it always discourages, because back of it is fear—fear, not of something in view, but of the terrifying unseen. It is the nightmare of day, cruelly absorptive of mental and physical energies and of all diseases the most nerve lacerating. Such a force obviously cannot help, but must necessarily hinder, the removal of obstacles since itself has already sapped the very qualities essential to success and broken the power of resolution.

Moreover, constant brooding often brings to pass the very thing dreaded, which otherwise would not have happened. We all have noted instances of the making up of a story from nothing and its telling and retelling so many times that ultimately the author himself honestly believes it to be true. So with worry, beginning with doubt and mere imaginings, proceeding by steady stages through more definite apprehension to settled expectation and finally culminating in actual realization. Even though this conclusion be not reached, it often happens that a mere fancy feeds and feeds and grows and grows until the continuous thought becomes so dominant that the effect of the dread becomes as harmful as that of the unfulfilled reality would have been.—George Harvey in North American Review.

A BUSINESS LESSON.

How Peter Cooper Taught One Man the Value of Money.

Peter Cooper was one of the most successful, careful and prudent business men of his time. He was strongly opposed to the methods of many merchants who launched out into extravagant enterprises on borrowed money, for which they paid exorbitant rates of interest. The following anecdote illustrates this point very forcibly:

Once, while talking about a project with an acquaintance, the latter said he would have to borrow the money for six months, paying interest at the rate of 3 per cent per month.

"Why do you borrow for so short a time?" Mr. Cooper asked.

"Because the brokers will not negotiate bills for longer."

"Well, if you wish," said Mr. Cooper, "I will discount your note at that rate for three years."

"Are you in earnest?" asked the would be borrower.

"Certainly I am. I will discount your note for $10,000 for three years at that rate. Will you do it?"

"Of course I will," said the merchant.

"Very well," said Mr. Cooper. "Just sign this note for $10,000, payable in three years, and give your check for $800, and the transaction will be complete."

"But where is the money for me?" asked the astonished merchant.

"You don't get any money," was the reply. "Your interest for thirty-six months at 3 per cent per month amounts to 108 per cent, or $10,800. Therefore your check for $800 just makes us even."

The force of this practical illustration of the folly of paying such an exorbitant price for the use of money was such that the merchant determined never to borrow at such ruinous rates, and he frequently used to say that nothing could have so fully convinced him as this rather humorous proposal by Mr. Cooper.

"Scouring the Land."

I have just been examining an old book containing the accounts of the charity estate of West Haddon, embracing the years 1773-1850. Under date Aug. 17, 1776, is the following entry:

"Paid Richard Worster seven days' work, cutting thorns and scowering and stoping of gaps, 10s. 6d."

The term "scouring the ditch" is used on Jan. 8, 1781, and appears many times after this date, the last instance being on April 28, 1820.—London Notes and Queries.

ALVA MAY BE THE MAN.

Col. Chubb and Prominent Citizens Consult in St. Augustine.

Hon. Henry S. Chubb, register of the United States land office, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, and one of the wheelhorses of the Republican organization in Florida, has returned from St. Augustine, to which place he was summoned two or three days ago for conference with leading citizens of the Ancient City in reference to the appointment of a successor to Postmaster Richie, the unfortunate death of whom occurred a few days ago.

When asked in regard to the matter, Col. Chubb stated that a number of applications had been filed, but that Hon. Geo. A. Alba, the present collector of customs of the port of St. Augustine, would probably receive the endorsement of the Republican State organization.

"Mr. Alba is a magnificent gentleman," remarked Col. Chubb, in speaking of the matter. "He is a business man of integrity, and a man who has held many important positions in municipal affairs, and we all feel sure that he will make a good and efficient postmaster. I feel that the Republican organization of Florida will endorse him."

The endorsement of a man for the postmastership of St. Augustine must be announced within the next week or ten days.
